It was one of welcome to the new students in their many prominent societies, and a representative of each society made a nice talk in their society's behalf. Everybody seemed to enjoy the evening. High Point was well represented out there.

AN UNUSUAL SPECTACLE.

The Hobo Said He Would Have a Place to Sleep.

There was a rather unique proceeding around at the jail on Saturday night. A fine specimen of the genus hobo who was down on his luck like a thousand ton of brick said he must sleep with a roof over his head that night. The jailer did not care to entertain more guests so he opened the gate carefully and questioned the man. The tramp produced a passport from one of the policemen and after inspecting it by the light of the moon Weary Willie was permitted to enter and rest himself upon the couch of uncrumpled rose leaves provided by the county in the palatial inn on the corner. He was perhaps the first willing guest of many a night. He slept well.

Charlotte's Poultry Show.

This is the week for the first annual exhibition of the Charlotte Poultry Association. It will be held in the city hall building Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Already five hundred entries have been made and this assures the succes of the exhibition—it only remains for the people to go to see it. This they should by all means do. Without the hope or desire of reward a few gentlemen have assumed the expense and labor incident to this show, with the purpose of fostering interest in the higher breeds of chickens and the purpose of attracting visitors to Charlotte.—Observer.

Has Made No Proposals.

Madrid, Jan. 8.—It is semi-officially denied that Captain-General Blanco has made proposals to the Cuban insurgent leaders. The Cuban Government, it is announced, will admit all those who recognize its legality and make submission to it, but will deal rigorously with foreign adventurers.

Check for a Thousand.

Capt. J. D. Burch, secretary and treasurer of the Golden Chain Lodge at this place, this morning received and paid over to Mrs. Mary G. Coble, $1,000, insurance money, on the policy for that amount carried by the late M. L. Coble in this order.

BUSHNELL WAS SWORN IN.

Balloting For Senator Will Begin Tomorrow.

THERE WILL BE NO ELECTION.

Standing in The Senate And The House--Why We Should Be Thankful.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Columbus, O. Jan. 10—The legislature re-convened this morning and Bushnell was sworn in as Governor of Ohio at noon today. So far there has been no trouble although balloting will begin in both branches of the legislature tomorrow for senator. It is conceded that there will be no election. The Senate is expected to stand nineteen to seventeen against Hanna and the house is one in his favor. Mass meetings in favor of Hanna are billed for this afternoon in all parts of the State. The final conference will be held tonight.

LET US BE THANKFUL.

By Wire to THETELEGRAM

Washington, Jan. 10.—Representative Fowler, the author of the currency reform bill, speaking today of Indianapolis convention and its work said that all Americans should thank the Commission for its earnest work and clear analysis of the situation.

TROUBLE WAS EXPECTED.

Columbus, Jan. 10—The police expected trouble during the inauguration of Governor Bushnell today.

Bodies of patrolemen were stationed all along the line of march and it is also stated that the militia were provided with ball cartridges and ordered to shoot if the necessity should arise.

Hanna's supporters poured into the city all the morning and they loudly expressed their opinion of the governor in no uncertain terms. Most of the Militia Companies which were to take part in the parade showed up with depleted ranks, the officers and men declaring that they would not do anything for Bushnell. The feeling against him is very bitter and he has been told by his supporters that the less the crowd sees of him the better it will be.

Hanna's leaders have given orders that there must be no demonstration against the Governor outside of jeering. It is a question, however, whether they can control their supporters. Bushnell's supporters declare today that any insult to him will result in trouble at the Hanna meeting this afternoon.

Shorter and Quicker Route.

An arrangement has been made between the Durham and Charlotte railroad and the Carthage and Western railroad, whereby a through train schedule will be put into operation between Gulf, N. C., and Carthage, N. C., which will be a great saving in time to the traveling public.

This schedule will be put into effect Monday, January 31, 1898 and will be as follows:

Leave Gulf at 2:20 p. m. and arrive at Carthage at 4:10 p. m. Returning, leave Carthage at 11:15 p. m. and arrive at Gulf at 1:35 p. m.

These trains connect at with C. F. and Y. V. trains Nos. 1 and 2. By the above arrangement passengers from any point on the C. F. and Y. V. railway, who wish to go to Carthage, will save three hours, and also save over three hours on the return trip by traveling this route.

Judge Dick Better.

The report published in some papers that Judge Dick was seriously ill a few days ago was a mistake. It was like the rumors of his resignation. The Judge suffered from a temporary indisposition merely and is now out again. He has not been strong of late but is today as well as usual.

TRYING COUNT ESTERHAZY

The Court Refuses to Open it Afresh. The Charge is Selling Military Secrets of France.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Jan. 10—The courtmartial ordered by the governor of Paris for the trial of Count Esterhazy, accused of being implicated in the betrayal of French military secrets and of having written letters recently published in the Figaro, casting reflections upon France and the French army, opened today.

Counsel appeared in behalf of Mme. and Mathien Dreyfus, respectively the wife and brother of ex-Captain Dreyfus, who is now serving a life sentence of imprisonment under conviction for selling military information to a foreign government.

SEEING THINGS DISTORTED.

We fancy that to the man who, from choice or necessity, plods, day after day, through associated press reports or the pages of metroplitan journals there comes a sense, vague and undefined perhaps, of something radically wrong. He may not be able to define it but it is there none the less.

After all that has been said about the modern way of gathering and disseminating news it is very unsatisfactory both in method and in matter. The constant tendency is to emphasize quantity to the detriment of quality.

But that is not all. Pick up any paper taking associated press dispatches and analyze the matter appearing in its columns. It will clearly appear that they are dominated absolutely by a few large cities, so called news centers. Incidents of the most trifling nature, if they occur in New York Chicago or Washington, are taken up and treated with all the formal importance of one of the fundamental things of life.

Of all places New York is most provincial and the New Yorker is, in his mental attitude, of all men most provincial. For provincialism is merely exaggerating the importance of ones surroundings. The citizen of a small southern town is intellectually more cosmopolitan than the New Yorker.

The press and the news associations reflect this phase of the city mind. Affairs in which the rest of the country cannot have more than a factitious interest are telegraphed from one end of it to the other. The reactionary effect is ill both for the country and the city.

The fact that a crime is committed in New York certainly should not increase public interest in it. Locality in nowise increases its importance. But the space it will fill in the public prints will be four times as large as if it were committed in Macon or Terre Haute.

One thing badly needed is a bureau of state news and of southern news. The country as a whole needs a news bureau that shall not see events solely through the narrow eyes of New York, Washington or Chicago. Some good day we shall have them.

A Washington correspondent writing of the House of Representatives says: "With a few honorable exceptions the southern representatives are not above mediocre." We are sorry for the other southern states. North Carolina takes up all that saving exception. There is the "Opalescent and Empyrean" Richmond Pearson, the dweller and soarer in the altitudes: count him one of the few. Then we have Linney, the invincible taurian of the Carolina Alps; and Charles Henry Martin, the peerless master of blighting sarcasm, the Junius of the House. Who dares speak of mediocrity? However we have seen no outcropping evidences of top-heaviness in northern and western representatives as yet.

The duel of General Cussons and his enemy shows only too plainly that the capital of the old dominion is pervaded with Parisian effeteness.

It is reported that Great Britain is to organize a "flying squadron" in Chinese waters. Will that be an improvement on an anchoring squadron?

It is not an unreasonable inference from the facts that while Germany may get Kiao Chou in the day of settlement Great Britain will pocket the swag.

Democrats generally would like to see Gorman re-elected in Maryland but when they think of the paroxysms of the Baltimore Sun they relent.

If we have Mrs. Nack and Luetgert on this side of the water it should not be forgotten that our English cousins are blessed with Mrs. Maybrick.

The reports published as to the food supply of the Klondyke indicate that special correspondents are equipped with widely varying appetites.

Republican legislators in Ohio are showing the same sweet reasonableness which so distinguished populist delegates.

The sad thing about it all is that Mr. Hanna has been compelled to take himself out of the hands of his friends.

A Free Silver Conference.

Washington, Jan. 8—Leaders of the various parties advocating the free coinage of silver were in conference at the Capitol today. The first meeting was held in the committee room of Senator Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National Committee and there were present in addition to Senator Jones, Senator Butler, of North Carolina, chairman of the National Committee of the Populist party Hon. A. P. Towne, chairman of the National Committee of the Silver Republican party; Senator White Congressman, Bailey and Hon. Marcus Daily; Democrats; Senators Teller, Pettigrew, Cannon and Mantle and Representative Hartman, Silver Republicans and Senator Allen, Populist. Later in the day there was another conference in which the Democrats did not participate. The meeting was final and no authorized statement was made of the proceeding beyond the announcement that the meeting was merely incidental to Mr. Towne's visit to Washington.

It is understood, however, that the devising of a plan for holding the silver force together for the Congressional campaign next fall, and that while no absolute conclusion was reached, it was decided that local silver leaders of whatever party affiliation should be advised of the conviction of the national leaders of the necessity of maintaining a solid front against the Republican party as the organized advocate of the policy of maintaining the gold standard. The chairmen of the various parties are said to be agreed as to the wisdom and importance of concerted action.

The Case of Hocus.

The Hon. Hocus Smith deserves the sympathy of every feeling heart. He cannot abide the game of football. He inspects the world, and finds that football is the sole cause of human woe. Each generation of the human race would survive if football could be abolished. If it could be abolished! It has been. The Hon. Hocus Smith has abolished it. Some persons have loved football, but all persons love the Hon. Hocus Smith.—New York Sun.

Murderer Lynched.

Colfax, Wash., January 8.—Marshal Chadwick, the suspected murderer of young Hayden, near Farmington, the night of October 22d, was taken from jail by a mob this morning and hanged to the west wall of the courthouse. "Dakota Slim" McDonald, who was also believed to be implicated in the murder, was shot, but not seriously wounded.

A Flying Squadron of British Ships.

London, Jan. 8.—A rumor is in circulation, emanating from the dockyards at Portsmouth, that a flying squadron of British ships will be formed for service in Chinese waters. An investigation of the report received shows it to be unfounded.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

HUNTING COUNTERFEITERS.

Chief of Secret Service Ordered to Capture Them.

Washington, Jan. 8—Gage today gave Hazen orders to drop all other business and devote his whole time and energy to the apprehension of the counterfeiters who made the $100 silver certificates.

It is said Hazen has obtained information which will probably result in the apprehension of the counterfeiters in a few days.

Three counterfeit $10 gold pieces were sent to the treasury department today from Danville, Va.

The coins were found by the chief of police, and are made of copper, with a thin plating of gold, and bear the the date of 1881.

Spurious coins of this denominatiou have been discovered only once before by the government.

THE MAHNIMAH.

A Wonderful Parrot of India Which, the Natives Claim, Thinks.

A little bird in town did a surprising thing the other day, though that is the middle of the story. The first of the story is that a woman who had lived many years in India and who has a love for all things Indian was walking along the street and saw in the window of a bird store a green parrot with red spots on its wings.

"That bird," she said to herself, "came from India. I will go in and speak with it. Perhaps it speaks the vernacular."

So she went in and spoke to it in the vernacular of India.

"Do you speak the language?" she said. It is the common question which the people ask of a parrot in the land from which the bird came. But the creature made no answer. It stared at her with dull eyes and was not interested. Still she persisted.

"Come," she said. "Surely you speak the language? What do you want? Are you hungry? Is poor Polly lonesome away off here? Come, come, you speak the language."

Still the bird made no answer, but from away back in the dusk of the room came a clear little bird voice in Hindoostanee:

"I speak the language. I also, I speak it."

The birdseller did not notice the cry. It is merely the chattering of a foolish little bird to him. But the woman who loved India said:

"Where is that bird?"

"It's back there," said the bird seller, pointing to a remote corner. So the woman went there, and in an old cage she found a neglected looking mahnimah, standing erect on its perch, all its feathers ruffled, looking this way and that as it quivered with excitement. This bird of all talking birds is the most wonderful—nay, in India they maintain that it thinks. It learns, in fact, the tongue of the people, they say, and does not speak by rote, but it converses. At any rate the mahnimah cried:

"I speak the language. I speak it."

"Here I am, brother," cried the woman. "I am one who speaks it too."

The bird fixed one sharp eye on her.

"You are little," he said disdainfully, putting his head down in his feathers to indicate how little she was. "You are little, but I am large," and then he stood erect with his head thrown back and looked down on her.

It said other things, too, while the bewildered bird seller stood by and listened, astonished that the bird had any value or that any one could understand it.

"How much will you take for the bird?" asked the woman.

"Twenty dollars," said the man. The price had gone up in the last ten minutes.

"Where did you get it?"

"A sailor brought it here, and I bought it of him. He had come from New York and was going to San Francisco. He said he was tired of lugging it over the country."

"He must have come from some place where there are Lascars."

"I do not know. Will you take the bird, ma'am?"

But the woman could not afford that, so she called back:

"Salaam, little brother."

"Salaam," said the bird.—Chicago Chronicle.

Whist In the Church.

And that's what's the matter with Emporia—too much whist. The painted china set is married to cards. Women have no higher thought from week's end to week's end than winning head prizes. They grow nervous, irascible, bad tempered and ugly playing cards. Little crows' feet appear at the corners of their eyes after an evening with whist, and deep, vertical lines plow themselves just above their noses. There are more plain women in Emporia who lost their bloom at the rented card tables than there are women who have worn themselves out over the kitchen stove. It is worry, not work, that makes women fade, and cards are sapping the juice out of the town. Only the young people patronize the public library. The old folks make "What's trump?" the chief end of man. Cards have invaded the churches. One church has a big factional row looming upon the horizon because the pastor has jumped cards. Another church narrowly avoided it last winter. A third pastor sees his best customers whooping it up in whist clubs and hasn't the nerve to say a word. In the meantime poker rooms, which are just as improving and elevating and just as helpful to the town as whist clubs, have opened on Commercial street, and the town is enjoying the fruit of the seed the women have planted.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

Probable Enough.

"The feelings of woman are far deeper and finer than those of man," cried the lady orator in a fiery tone. "We are told by those who style themselves the stronger sex that we are much inferior. Is that so?"

A loud chorus of "No!" from the ladies greeted this question, and the orator went on:

"I say that woman feels where man thinks"—

"Is that the reason your husband is bald?" inquired one of the few male members of the audience.

It was lucky for him that he got two seconds' start in the race for the door.—Pearson's Weekly.

Costs of a Great War.

According to recent French statistics, France lost 136,000 men by death through wounds, sickness or accidents in her war with Germany, while 139,421 men were disabled on the field of battle. Germany's losses were 79,155 dead and 18,543 wounded. The monetary loss is more evenly divided, that for France being 12,666,487,522 francs and that for Germany being 8,000,000,000 francs.

"GO WORK FOR YOUR LIBIN."

De Debil Tempted Ebe, and Ebe Gin Adam a Bite.

"My text, bruderen and sistern, will be found in de fus' chapter ob Genesis, and de twenty-seben verse: 'So de Lor' mak man jus' like Hese'f.'

Now, my bruderen, you see dat in de beginnin' ob de world de Lor' mak Adam. He put him in the garden ob Eden, and he sot 'im in one corner ob de lot, an' he tole him to eat all de apples 'ceptin' dem in de middle ob de orchard; dem he wanted for de winter apples.

Byme-by Adam he got lonesome. So de Lor' make Ebe. I tole you how he make her. He gib Adam lodlum, till he git sound 'sleep; de he gouge a rib out he side and mak Ebe; and he set Ebe in de corner of de garden, an he tole her to eat all de apples, 'ceptin' dem in de middle ob de orchard; dem he winter apples.

Wun day de Lor' go out a visitin', de debil come along; he dress hisself in de skin ob de snake, and he find Ebe; an' he tole her: 'Ebe, why for you no eat de apples in de middle ob de orchard?' Ebe say, 'Dem de Lor's winter apples.' But de debil say: 'I tole you for to eat dem, case dey's de best apples in de orchard.' So Ebe eat de apple an' gib Adam a bite; an' de debil go away.

Byme-by do Lor' come home, an he missed de winter apples; an' he call: 'Adam! you Adam!' Adam he lay low; so de Lor' call again: 'You Adam!' Adam say: "Hea, Lor' an de Lor' say: 'Who stole de winter apples?' Adam tole him he don't know—Ebe he expec'.

So de Lor' called: 'Ebe!' Ebe she lay low; den de Lor' call again: 'You, Ebe!' Ebe say: 'Hea, Lor'.' De Lor' say: 'Who stole de winter apples?' Ebe tole him she don't know—Adam she expec'.

So de Lor' cotch em boff, and he frow dem over de fence, an' he tole 'em, 'Go work for your libin'!"

HOW IT IS DONE IN KANSAS.

Free Library Ticket with Every Dog License.

Some time ago the Kansas City (Kan.) Council passed an ordinance giving the public library 50 per cent. of all money derived from dog licenses. This will amount to about $2,500 per year. The membership fee to the public library is $1 annually. The promoters of the free membership scheme claim that by virtue of the ordinance giving the library half of the dog license money the poor people of the city practically support the library. They argue it is not the rich people that keep dogs, but the poor classes. It is claimed that 95 per cent. of the money derived from dog licenses comes from the laboring people, and, inasmuch as their money supports the institution, they think it is no more than right that they should be allowed free access to the library.

The ordinance will provide that when a person takes out a dog license the City Clerk shall issue with it one membership to the library.—Topeka State Journal.

SENSATIONAL HEARING.

Vice-President Andrews to Be Up for Contempt.

There was a sensational hearing before the North Carolina Railway Commission at Raleigh on Saturday at which Vice-President A.B. Andrews of the Southern railway, was the principal figure. He, his private secretary H. W. Miller, Division Freight Agent John B. Munson and Local Agent R. L. Potts were all subpoenaed to appear before the commission. Munson and Potts were asked whether special freight rates were granted last year to Railway Commissioner S. Otho Wilson. They declined to say upon the ground that their statements might be used in criminal proceedings against them in court. They were adjudged in contempt. Vice-President Andrews was asked whether he would produce his records of passes issued during the past three years. He also declined to do this. The commission orders the four witnesses to appear before it next Thursday and show cause why they should not be attached for contempt. The punishment prescribed by the law for this offense is a fine or imprisonment, or both.

The work of grading Bragg street between Asheboro street and the new hose wagon house of the Southside Hose Company is progressing today. This will give a level start or outlet for the wagon and a great advantage over climbing a hill in case of fire.

A man named Pool, who had imbibed rather freely of the ardent Saturday night made a misstep in front of Hiatt & Lamb's store and went through a window, smashing glass and making a lively racket. A friendly policemn who was near took charge of him. It might have been a very small affair if Mr. Pool had concealed the metal knucks which were in his pocket, but as it is he will probably go up to court.

They are Considerate.

These railroad men are very considerate. They don't want to show how many free passes fusion judges and legislators and other such statesmen have had the past two or three years since they got into power, nor how many Governor Russell gave out last year, nor to whom. It is said the Governor's pass would "go" all during the last Legislature, and that he kept a regular pass book full of 'em. Well, don't tell on him.—Raleigh Post.

OFF TO THE ORPHANAGE.

Four of the eight children of Mrs. Eliza A. Ryan, who, a little over a month ago, was killed by her husband, were this morning sent to the Thompson Orphanage at Charlotte. Their names are Charlie, aged 11 years, Alice, aged 8, Henry, aged 6 and Jessie, aged 4.

They were sent through the instrumentality and efforts of Rev. J. D. Miller, rector of St. Andrews church, and his congregation. This is undoubtedly the best disposition which could have been made of the unfortunate little orphans. They will be reared under good influences, away from the scene of the awful tragedy which deprived them of a mother's protection and love.

William Jennings asks us, in behalf of the family to express through The Telegram their sincere and warmest thanks to all who have expressed sympathy by word or deed in the dark hour of sorrow through which they have recently passed, and especially to the Ladies' Aid Society, and members of the St. Andrews church for their interest and assistance in getting the orphan children a home.

SEWERAGE EXTENSION.

Ordinance Providing for it Now Being Drafted.

The ordinance providing for sewerage extension, which is to be submitted to the voters of the city, is now being drafted by A. M. Scales. The ordinance will probably come up for the approval of the Board of Aldermen at the regular meeting on Friday night of this week.

The ordinance will, it is thought, provide for the extension of the system to the town limits, south and west.

The north and east is already fairly well taken care of, though of course, such extensions will be made there as are necessary.

So soon as the ordinance has been passed on by the board it will probably be given to the public through the papers and submitted to a vote after the usual thirty days.

NOT FULLY DECIDED.

The Exact Plans for the New Passenger Depot Here.

Although it is a positive fact that Greensborro is to have a new depot, the exact plans have not yet been decided upon. There are three plans under consideration, and it is safe to say that it will be one of convenience, comfort and beauty.

It will be, part of it, at least, two stories high, the second story to be used as offices for officials of the road who are located in this city.

It is estimated that the building will cost $16,000 to $18,000.

WANG OPERA COMPANY.

Contract Has Been Closed for a Date Here.

W. F. Bogart has closed a contract with the Wang Opera Company for a date in this city, the time yet to be decided upon. This company has recently scored a big success in New York city and comes south with the highest encomiums from the people and press where they have been.

Watch The Telegram for further announcements as to date, prices, etc.

Runaway at Noon.

A two-horse team belonging to John J. Phoenix which he uses on his farm ran away at noon today. The team was composed of a horse and a mule and they were either frightened, tired of each other or offeaded with the driver. They started at the depot and ran up Davie street, as far as Sycamore. Egg crates were scattered along the street promiscuously and the driver was dragged over the cablestones for some distance to the distinct detriment of his physical beauty. Beyond that no damage resulted to the outfit.

Court Proceedings.

The time of His Honor Judge Robinson was taken up today with the case of Lewis vs. Moore and McKenzie for malicious arrest. The grounds are the same as in the case of Lewis vs. Clegg in which a verdict was returned on Saturday night. The case went to the jury about half-past three and we went to press before a verdict was returned.
